

---

Morality of Unsettling Interventions

---

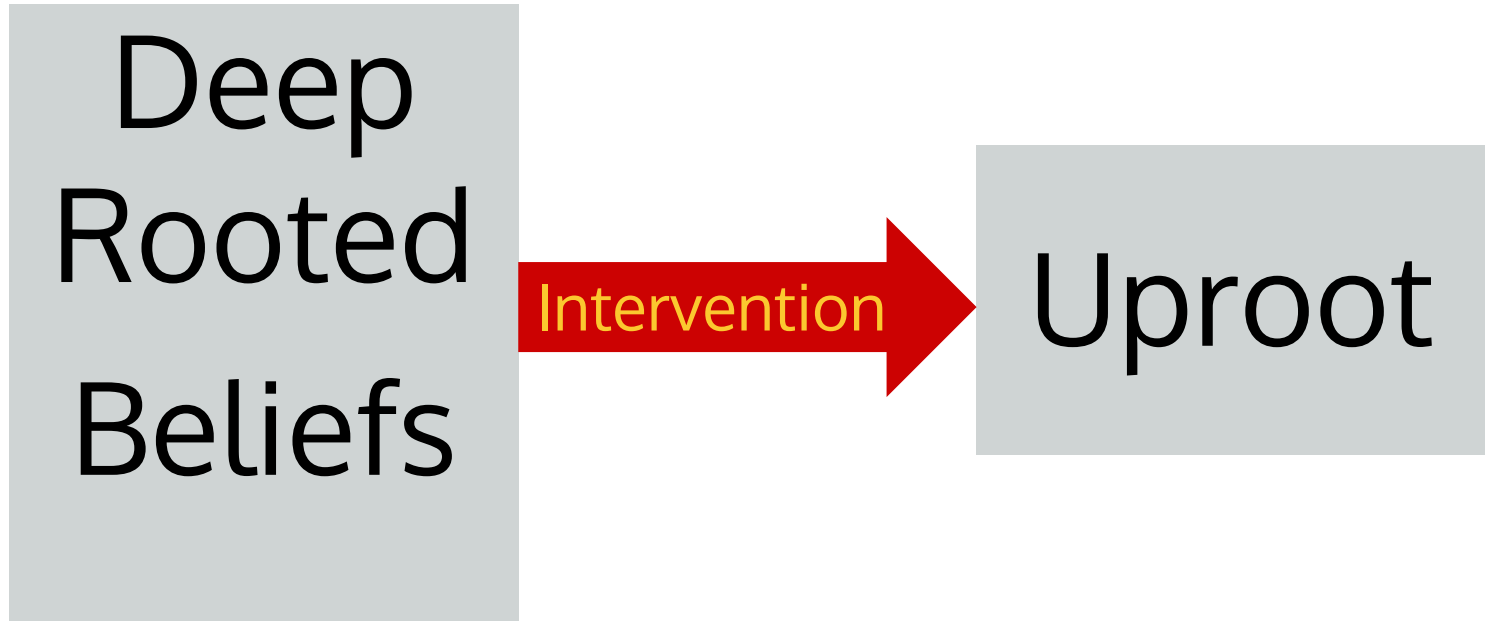

Abhishek Kumar Sharma
Sahil Loomba
Sajal Gupta

---

Unsettling Interventions

---

Abstraction of the Mind

---

Abstraction of the Mind

---

Under the Moral Lens

---

- Autonomous Agents
  - Paternalism
  - Self-Deception
  - Epistemology
    - Can we anticipate the ends?
    - What are the ends?
-

The Second Person Moral Question

---

Should I cause unsettlement to someone else?

- Could it be justified in the face of causing some benefit?
  - Could it be justified to avoid it in the face of avoiding emotional distress?
-

The First Person Moral Question

---

- What should be my response to unsettlement?
  - Should I be open to unsettlement?
  - Should I be blindly open to unsettlement?
  - Is there any point in protecting the knowledge blindly?
-

Abstraction of the Mind, Revisited

---

Prescription?

---

- Can we prescribe what should be our orientation towards unsettlement?
  - Integrity
  - Continuity
  - Improvement
-

